Congress To-day The SENATE was not in session to day

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES .- The House went into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, and resumed the consideration of bills relating to the Territories of the United States.

The Agitation of the Agitators. The Honorable Preston King, of New York, a prominent Freesoil Democratic Representative in Congress, delivered a speech on the 17th instant nominally on a Territorial bill. Its whole gist and import, however, are embraced in the following leading passage:

"On the final adjournment of the last Congress those in and out of Congress who favored or acquiesced in the passage of the series of measures relating to slavery which grew out of the late acquisition of territory by the United States, declared that these questions were settled; and they then declared their hostility to any further agitation or discussion of them. They went so far as to denounce agitation as hostile to the peace and safety of the Union. In the passage of these acts the lines of party division had been disregarded; and although most of then were adopted by Congress under the guide of the great leader of the Whig party-Mr. Clay-and were, all but one of them, indebted for adoption to the active influence of a Whig administration, without which they could never have become laws, yet they were voted for and voted against by members of Congress without regard to the distinction of Whig or Democrat. What ever may be the opinion of any man, or set of men, for or against any or all of these measures. or whatever may be the opinion of the wisdon and patriotism, or the want of boll, in these measures were conceived and adopted they stand as laws upon the statute-book; and whatever the present opinion of individuals, or the future opinion of the courts or the country. may be of their constitutional validity, enough has transpired to show that the courts, as the are now constituted, are of opinion that all these laws are constitutional.'

The Union entirely, though modestly and moderately, dissents from Mr. King's opinions on the sectional questions, but says: "He, however, proposes no renewal of the anti-slavery agita-'tion, but, on the contrary, recognises the con-'stitutionality and obligatory force of the statutes of settlement, and in that sense appears to dis-'countenance any efforts to disturb them. It is 'proper to add, that Mr. Kip g also declines to . dispute either the wisdom or the expediency of the adoption of the Compromise; and this would appear, when coming from a mon in his position, to concede the wisdom and expediency of faithfully · abiding by it as a final settlement, now that it has been thus adopted." The Union further adds that Mr. King's whole argument, e.s it understands him, "against an explicit declaration by the Democratic party of 'its purpose to abide by the Compromise measures as a bar to future sectional agitation in · Congress, rests upon the assumption that such a declaration against agitation would in itself be agitation;" that "the question of abiding by the Compromise appears to us to be pretty well settled, when a man of Mr. King's ability, ' and in his position, has nothing more to urge against it than such a declaration."

Is not this kindly in the Union towards its Processil Democratic friends? Is it not indicative of a gentle lullaby to agitation? Ye who have read the Union's denunciations of General Scott's refusal to agitate at its behests, read, ponder, and admire its honied words as the day of the Democratic Convention draws nigh! It subsequently adds, that the "great office of the Democratic party, at the present moment, is to give the people a guaranty that the further 'ngitation of the sectional issues shall cease; and 'that this can only be done by treating the Com-* promise, and particularly the fugitive slave law, as * questions no longer to be disturbed." If this be so, the Union is soon to see all its desires accomplished. Happy Union! A glorious millenium is approaching-the lion and the lamb will lie down together-and General Scott will be the Union's President!

The editor of the Herald, published at Georgetown, Kentucky, has read a letter addressed by General Scott to a leading Whig politician of that county, which has the following paragraphs:

* I have no public opinions to conceal. I have but one set of opinions on these subjects for the people of the North, South, East, or West; and these opinions I am prepared to submit to general consideration as soon as a suitable opportunity presents itself, either by the action of a State or a National Convention.

If the Whig National Convention call for my views on the leading questions of the day, they WILL PROMPTLY AND MOST EXPLICITLY BE GIVEN IN WRITING.

WINFIELD SCOTT.

We find this in the New York Herald, and would regard it as satisfactory, but that that paper thinks it monstrous for General Scott to nunit the wishes of the Whig Convention on the subject, lest it may not lay down a platform for the General to walk upon. Lest it may not, the Herald appears to think with the Union, he should lay down a platform for it.

They cannot be gratified. The Democratic party van not induce the Whigs to nominate Mr. Fillmore nor Mr. Webster, nor will General Scott write any premature letters for them. His campaign has been planned by himself, and he wax carry out his plans to successful completion. All our friends on the other side have to do is, to hold still be patient, and derive all their comfort from bone of Jacob Faithful for "better luck next hope of Jacob Faithful for Candidates for Fame.

The New York Herald, not long ago, republished from the Nashville Union a long article, headed "Military Operations in Mexico," proving conclusively that General Gideon J. Pillow fought and won all the battles for which General Scott has heretofore received the credit.

We have seen a letter from a highly respectable gentleman in New Hampshire, who says that Generals Pillow and Cushing are actively engaged in preparing the way for the nomination of General Pierce as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and that these gentlemen are both ambitious of places in the next Cabinet.

Stanley's Indian Gallery.

An unusually large number of ladies and gendemen have visited the Smithsonian within the ast few pleasant days to witness the beautiful collection of Mr. Stanley; and we have been pleased to observe the high gratification universally evinced. This morning among the visiters were a number of distinguished gentlemen, many of whom manifested the most pleasurable surprise on looking, for the first time, upon an exmibition of such rare and excellent merit. Those of our citizens who fail to embrace the opportunity now before them will have occasion to rerret it.

Arrival of Roman Catholic Bishops.

A large number of the Bishops, comprising the ate National Council of the Roman Catholic Church which has been in session in Baltimore, arrived in Georgetown yesterday, and are stopoing at the College. The services at Trinity Church, this morning, were very interesting to the congregation; seventeen different masses being performed at the altar of the new and old churches. We understand that a grand high mass will be sung by the Bishops to-morrow morning, and a discourse given by one of their number.

A Name.

The telegraphic wires are very often accredited with our items abroad, and we are about as often accredited with its electrifying stories. Perhaps we should not complain; but right is right, and we like to be guided by it. A correspondent says that either our paper or the electrical machine must change its name. We should prefer the latter, but without being fully determined not to accede to the former. Who will suggest to us a better name?

Bear We see it stated in many of our exchange papers that Col. Warren, Second Assistant Postmaster General, and Mr. Goddard, Chief Clerk of the Department of the Interior, have been obliged to resign on account of their preferences for Gen. Scott as a candidate for the Presidency. We are unwilling to credit this statement, and think a rebutting argument may be found in the fact that the present administration has not only continued in office, but appointed and promoted, a very large number of Democrats. Within this present week, we are assured, a Democrat has been appointed to a clerkship in the Post Office Department; and even the place vacated by Mr. Goddard, we are assured, has been tendered to a Democrat, by whom it has been accepted. It is folly to talk about the dismissal of Scott Whigs by an administration whose policy is so gentle and so liberal as these things indicate.

The Washington Telegraph, heretofore a professed neutral paper, has come out a flaming partisan journal of Gen. Scott and the Whig party. This is honest; but the Telegraph should have dropped its neutral colors long since, for its par'asan instincts and leanings have been clearly na nifest for a long time .- Lynchburg (Va.) Rep.

Well, if they have been "clearly manifest," of ourse we have not been dishonest. It is only by our "instincts and leanings," or the expression of our honest opinions, that we are now known to favor the cause of General Scott. We are believers in works, not in professions-and therefore we have very strong belief in the noble old hero and patriot. Would that our friend of the Republican were with us!

Crime-A Singular Case. A singular case of mental malady, or crime, lately occurred in Wyoming county, Pa., as narrated by a correspondent of a Philadelphia paper. Over a year since theft was charged upon the wife of a much-respected citizen. The accused and the accuser were both members of the same church, and of unblemished reputation. A slan der suit was commenced, but withdrawn through the interference of mutual friends. The church took up the matter, and, after a full examination, censured the accuser for making a false accusation, and expelled her from communion. She then went before the Grand Jury and made an earnest effort to procure an indictment, but the jury ignored the bill. So the matter remained for sometime-the accused justified, and the accuser under the imputation of perjury. After the complete triumph, the accused party, in fluenced by some unknown cause, came forward and confessed the trath of the charge! Not only so. She confessed that she had been for year in the habit of pilfering. Though respectable, well educated, and possessed of ample means to gratify her desires, she stole to gratify an irresistible passion—destroying what she stole im-mediately after the act. While this practice was going on she was haunted with the keenes of the sin; and before going into places of temptation, she used to retire to her closet, and on her knees implore Heaven to subdue her propensity, but still perpetrated the crime! On this confession, the afflicted husband made restitution to all the sufferers!

Railroad to Baltimore.

The public will thereby be accommodated, and in our opinion the company will lose noth-

The Long Bridge.

" Ion," in this morning's Sun, says: "The Senate is about to enter upon a discussion of the expediency of repairing the bridge across the Potomac. The proposition is, to ap-propriate twelve thousand dollars for its temporary repairs. But to waste more money in temporary repairs is quite useless. It is time to settle the question whether we shall have a per-manent and substantial bridge—such a bridge as General Jackson had in view-or no bridge at all.

"As Alexandria now forms no part of the Federal District, and as the State of Virginia claims entire jurisdiction over the Potomac river, from shore to shore, it has become a question, also, whether the government is under any obligations to build any bridge across the river.

Affairs in Georgetown.

Georgetown, May 22-12 m. A large company from the Georgetown College, together with many other citizens of our town, contemplate going to St. Mary's on next Monday, to participate in the celebration of the Landing of the Pilgrims. At every point upon the canal where any damage was done by the freshet, there is a strong force engaged, and the work of repair is moving on finely, and would progress much faster but for the great difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of horses and carts. Some of the superintendents think, if nothing happens to retard the work, navigation will be resumed about the 1st of July.

After the 1st of August, the price of inspection upon flour will be one cent per barrel.

Our market was abundantly supplied this morning with green peas, at fifty cents per peck : tomatoes, at fifty cents per dozen; and new potatoes, at seventy five cents per peck.

The supply of roll-butter, from wagons, is very limited, and prices unusually high for the season. No change in the flour or grain markets since our last report. ELECTRO.

I most cheerfully place my name at your disposal as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the ensuing election JOHN W. MAURY."

THE MAYORALTY.

THE MAYORALTY.

A S the friends of other candidates for this office are already active in their behalf, I desire to present the name of the present incumbent, WALTER LENOX, sequence will, to some extent, govern the choice of many, but before the community generally, honest and discerning in its decision, is not the proper question, "What is the public interest?" It must be admitted by every reflecting citizen that sudden and uncalled-for change is not only unjust to the officer, but to the public interest. It takes away the personal motive and ambition which induce the faithful performance of duty, and loses to the public the benefit of official experience. If the present incumbent has discharged the duties of the office with ability and zeal, and can hereafter bring to it the advantage of practical experience, I trust that the people of Washington will not use the effective franchise to their own injury and the injustice of a public officer.

OF THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE. In the third week of June, 1852, will be commenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly

PROSPECTUS

Campaign Newspaper, under the above title. It will be devoted to the maintenance of genuine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States; to the preservation of the NATIONAL UNION, and of the RIGHTS OF THE STATES and the RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE under that Union; and in an especial manner to the election of GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT, as the nominee of the Whig National Convention, to the Presidency of this Republic.

It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a mar around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor, and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country, will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages upon their honored fellow-citizen-the hero, the patriot, and sage—and to proclaim THE GRATITUDE OF A REPUBLIC!

TERMS:

THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE will be published once a week-from the third week of June until the third week of November-at fifty cents.

Postmasters and others acting as voluntary agents, who may send five or more names, are authorized to reserve twenty-five per cent. for their trouble, or the advantage of this deduction may be shared by all the members of a club; and for each ten subscribers, on these terms, an eleventh copy will be also sent.

The notes of all specie-paying banks, gold, sil ver, and letter-stamps, will be received in pay ment. Address,
